from OneOcean

Harness the power of quality data sets to enhance your platforms.

OneOcean

Unlock the power of data

Quality data forms the basis of well-informed decision-making and enables confident action to be taken.

At OneOcean, we put our customers at the heart of everything we do, and this is especially true of our data solutions. Our expertise in maritime software means that we understand the pressures you're under and the challenges you face in day-to-day operations.

Commercial maritime operations are dynamic, fast-paced and variable. The need for connected, integrated systems is huge as companies seek the flexibility needed to plan voyages and work collaboratively with teams across the world.

Meeting the challenges of tomorrow

The maritime industry is continually evolving, becoming faster-paced, increasingly digitised, and even more regulated. These trends are driven by a desire for efficiency, cost savings, and a will to mitigate environmental impact and create safe operations.

In order to keep up with the latest developments while maintaining compliance, the need for data and fit-for-purpose business systems is huge.

OneOcean is here to help, with maritime data solutions that are fit for your businesses systems.

APIs

Benefit from data accessibility, integrated into your own systems through APIs, to achieve relevant context for your operations. Our quality data, accessed your way.

Navigation API

The API connects current OneOcean vessel data into external fleet management systems.

Environmental API

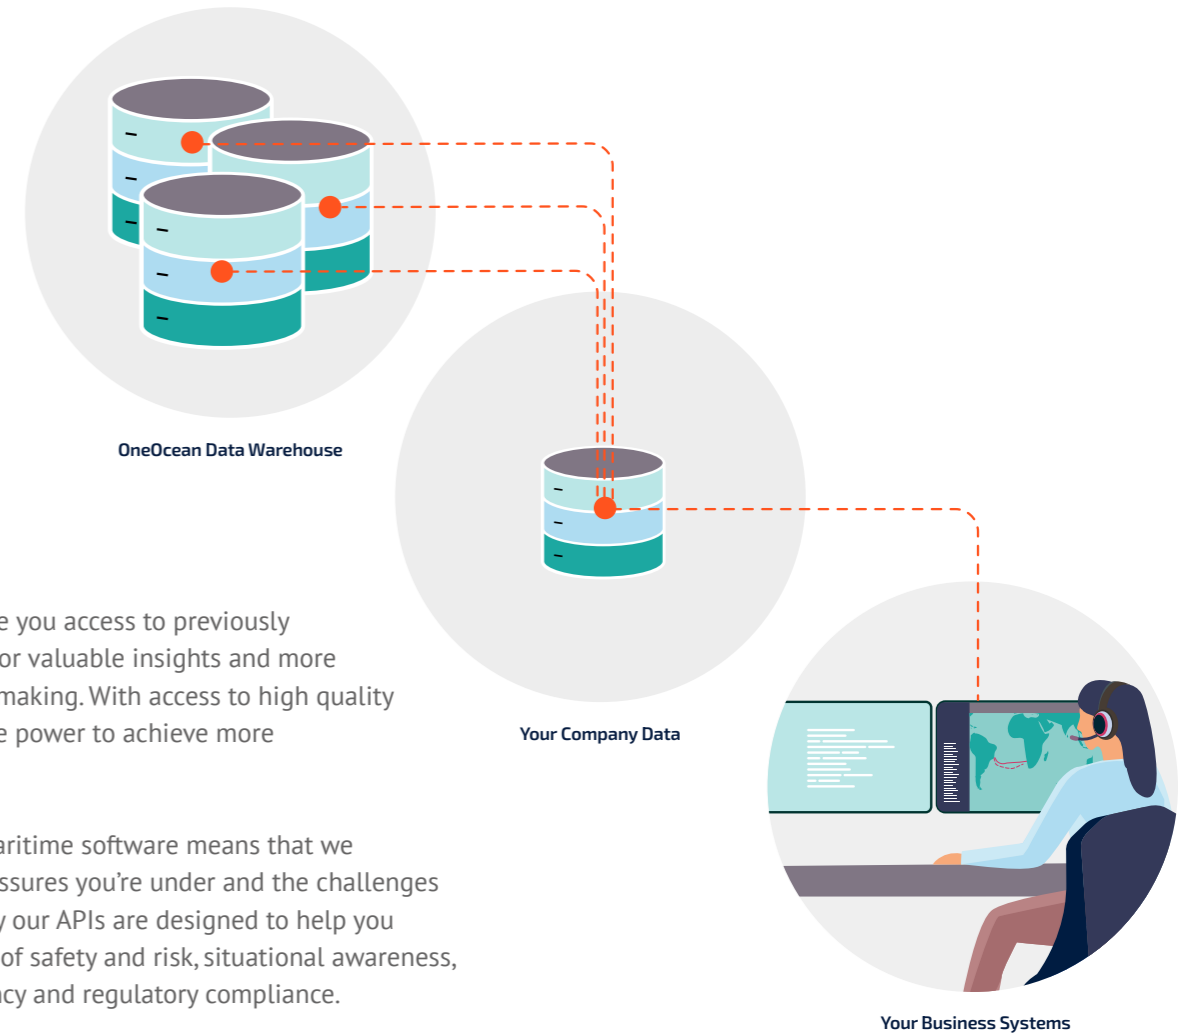

Using a real-time query model, our Environmental API retrieves environmental regulations in force at specific locations or along a route. Access a clear and concise summary of regulations at coordinates or produce an estimated time-series of events from route information.

Ports API

Access the latest port information including charts, diagrams, certification requirements and regulations in force. You select specific ports or ports meeting your criteria and integrate the data stream with your own systems.

OneOcean APIs give you access to previously out-of-reach data, for valuable insights and more informed decision-making. With access to high quality data, you'll have the power to achieve more for your business.

Our expertise in maritime software means that we understand the pressures you're under and the challenges you face. That's why our APIs are designed to help you meet the demands of safety and risk, situational awareness, operational efficiency and regulatory compliance.

The Navigation, Ports and Environmental API options are easily embedded into existing business systems. This means you can integrate our data quickly and efficiently in a way that is tailored to your needs and ways of working.

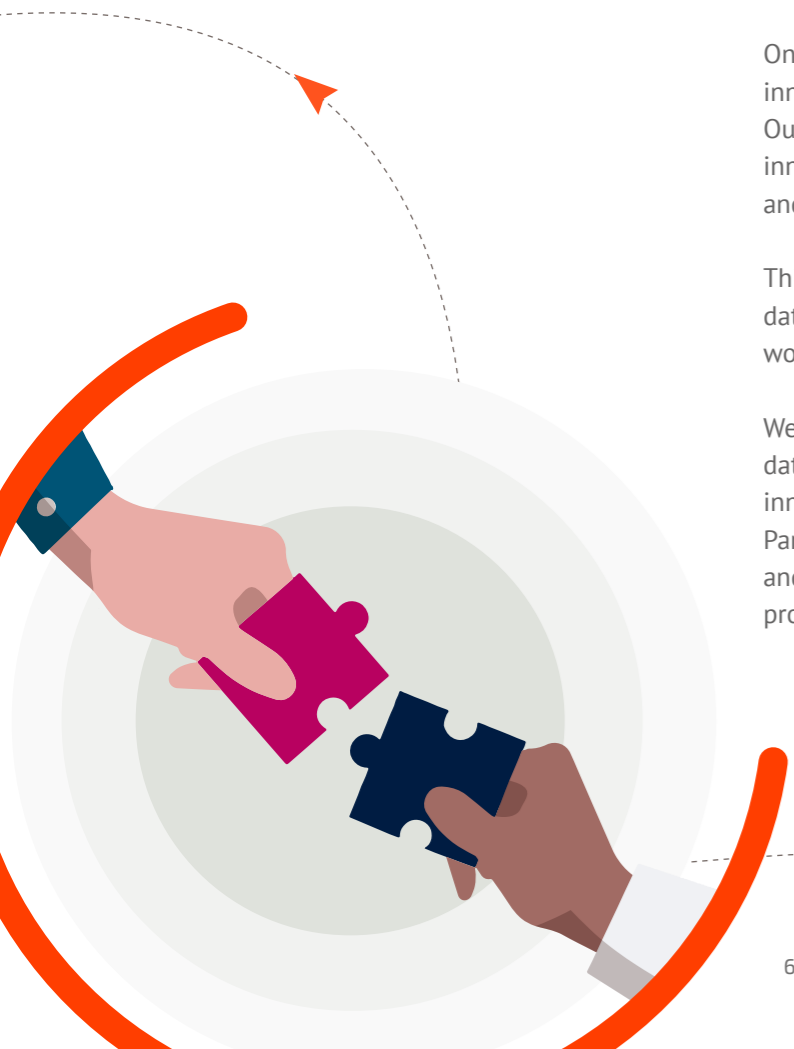

Partnerships

We know the value of teamwork when it comes to innovation. That is why we are always looking to build partnerships with digital providers in our industry to achieve great things.

OneOcean is always seeking out ways to provide innovation, simplicity, and, above all, value to our industry. Our decades of industry experience provide us with an innate understanding of emerging concerns around safety and risk, operational inefficiency, and regulatory compliance.

This experience, combined with comprehensive and quality data built up over decades, allows us to provide value when working with like-minded organisations.

We know the value of pooling resources, combining data and putting our heads together to come up with an innovative offer for our customers and industry. Partner with us to extend your reach, build something new, and benefit from an experienced team of IT and maritime professionals.
