Governance, Risk & Compliance

How OneOcean's Governance, Risk & Compliance solution helps maritime companies simplify operations

Getting regulations right

Given their importance, implementing governance, risk and compliance requirements shouldn't necessarily be quick and easy; but they shouldn't present ongoing obstacles to maritime operations and efficiencies.

With ever-changing international laws, rules and regulations that protect crew, cargo, vessels and the environment, staying compliant can be a complex and time-consuming process for seafarers. Failure to do so can result in fines, reputational damage and loss of commercial contracts.

Multiple regulatory layers apply, including international conventions like SOLAS from the International Maritime Organization, as well as flag state, port state, local port authority and coastal regulations. Additionally, the overall volume and detail of regulations are increasing – and constantly evolving based on factors such as incidents, technological advances and environmental concerns. Continual updates require ongoing learning and changes to operations on board; ship managers and operators must stay current to avoid non-compliance.

Added to this, knowing where and when regulations apply is a significant task for crew and shoreside personnel, increasing workloads. Manually updating hard copies with new amendments is inefficient, often resulting in outdated regulations kept aboard; and updating regulations individually across multiple copies makes it difficult to share amendments and updates among teams.

Today, technology has a huge part to play in helping ship managers and operators manage governance, risk and compliance challenges effectively.

Compliance you can count on

The OneOcean Governance, Risk & Compliance solution enables ship and shoreside teams to control risk anywhere in the world, including when plans change.

OneOcean understands the challenges of ensuring both onboard and shoreside teams have easy access to up-to-date regulatory publications – a task that can be time-consuming and limit your crews' capacity to implement changes or prepare for audits.

Our Governance, Risk & Compliance solution provides decision-makers, wherever they are, with official documents and real-time compliance data at their fingertips, supporting efficient and confident compliance with global requirements. As well as providing an accurate audit trail.

It does this by providing uninterrupted access to trusted, up-to-date regulatory databases – including live and archived publications from sources such as the International Maritime Organization, the International Labour Organization, and numerous flag states – even when offline.

By eliminating the time-consuming task of sourcing regulatory data, Governance, Risk & Compliance simplifies planning and implementation, and equips teams to run compliant operations – ultimately reducing the risk of costly fines and reputational damage from non-compliance.

It can also be tailored for the leisure yachting sector, making regulatory requirements easier to manage for yacht charterers, management companies, captains, and crew.

OneOcean is helping ship managers and operators run safer and smarter voyage lifecycles. We support operational and financial sustainability by strengthening compliance, enhancing safety standards, and reducing risks. We are your trusted partner in building a connected digital ecosystem – from ship to shore.
